

Greetings to All of our Friends at Home and Abroad,

This update is a perspective on recent events from 2010 into 2011 and beyond. Please note that we see in part as do all prophetic people, so you may have heard parts of this from others but we feel confident that you will be enlightened, too. We have been hearing so much about the next two-year period prophetically, beginning 2011, but are also seeing how crucial the next ten years will be; the earth has given more than sufficient evidence of these birthing pains.

Part I: from November 6, 2010:

God is depositing even more in His people than He has in the past, those who 'hear His voice' will draw closer, those who depend upon others to hear for them will drift further away. While we stand on the brink of revival as a nation, there is a concern. Along with the good that has taken root, the ripening seed of 'politicism' from the secular world that has been planted, has deeply taken root in the church. While the good fight to uphold Christian ethics and our freedom is necessary utilizing the system, we must continue to be careful that we guard our emotions concerning politics on all fronts. Political systems are tools and there is no such thing as good politics – only God is good. He has the final word in all things. Individually and as the church, we must give Him first place and all of the glory.

We have heard and seen the rise of racism since the last presidential election, and we are entering into a season, a new time of reconciliation to God that some will misuse for their own gain by playing on the prejudices and fears of man. I see weak Christians, a 'pale' skeletal church, one that is so sick and emaciated that it is too weak to arise from its bed to the challenges ahead and to its own destiny.

A cautionary word to all of the 'presence people': Do not merely be caught up in the ecstatic sense of revival, but recognize what is growing with it and how it is affecting your thoughts and action. It is not a time of separation but a time of pouring out what has been imparted to you. Separate yourself from empty vain religious activity yet seek after people, believers and non-believers alike. It is so easy to enjoy His presence, so pass it on and be that living stone He has called you to be. Your light will shine, and if you are like us, you know that people see His Spirit in you. Sometimes that is all it takes. Sometimes you need to go the extra mile and ask a simple question like "What do you need from God today?"

Although America is no longer a 'standard-bearer', there is restoration at hand. Be loyal to God alone and not to political causes or church doctrines, watch your alignment on the political scene and on the religious one. Spiritual discernment is so necessary, and my Dad always said that 'talk is cheap'. Be informed on all fronts without being ignorant of satan's devices, he's had so much practice at deception that we must be dependent upon the Holy Spirit. The word of the hour? Discern, discern!

This is a time of grace, but it is also a time of trouble. God will trouble you, allow you to have trouble in order to shake out the things that are not of Him. Dry bones will rise, but firm personal decisions must be made now for some and for others, in their future spiritual resurrection. 'Resolve' is the word I hear. Resolve your issues and rise up. You must be whole-hearted in pursuit of God in order to be His genuine friend and not just an acquaintance. Deep friendships last, thoughts for acquaintances are fleeting at best. His sheep know and hear His voice and run to Him when He calls. Shallow pursuit will cause the spirit and flesh to deteriorate, the fruit to rot on the vine.

There is a new camaraderie coming between the secular and religious community but do not mistake support from the secular world as friendship with God. There is a serious distinction between light and dark, yet God will use this time powerfully. Great strides forward will be taken for His Kingdom as the secular and religious walk together for a season.

I see Islam as a possum, playing dead for a short season but very much alive. It will go so far as to do good works for our nation, helping individuals and infiltrating the church in an effort to gain solid ground. Some will be 'hidden reefs in our love feasts' but do not confuse true converts with these deceivers. Do not point the finger, allowing suspicion and fear to rule you. Hear the voice of the Spirit and discern, not giving place to circumstantial evidence. You can know the difference only if you know His voice, so learn to know His voice unequivocally.

There is a digging in by Islamic cell groups, a calculated strategized foothold being dug down deeper. I see a trench, and these people are not afraid to 'get dirty' for what they believe. This foothold can be weakened and destroyed through the love of God, and an aggressive effort made to evangelize Muslim people. Preparations should be made to provide sanctuary for these new converts, since they will not be welcome in their families and Islam has no respect for our laws. They will murder their own children as we have seen, letting blood on American soil. We must repent for not seeking after the Muslim people for Christ's sake in America. More blood is on our hands through the influx of the spirit of murder through Islam, yet His love is our greatest weapon! We must learn from Islam how to be as equally adamant and aggressive in vision and vigilance for the sake of the gospel. The Spirit is giving out gifts now to reach these people – "If you want it, come and get it!" says the Lord.

We have seen a spirit in the White House, it's a pale grey-green frog-like thing that stands upright like a man with suction cup fingertips; these tendrils are reaching out to plague true lovers of God and to crush the seed of Abraham. It has come from the Middle East, from Egypt, to our shores and taken up residence. However, it does not have the influence or complete control that it is seeking. If you are a prophetic intercessor, you may have experienced or are experiencing an attack from this spirit. I break the band of oppression from your mind now in the name of Jesus Christ.

New Christian leaders will arise from the ranks. These are prepared lovers of God, not novices such as we have had in recent years and will not fail or give in to the flesh. The baby boomer generation will finally find its place and be babies no longer, no longer focused on the American Dream, products of their parents dream. They have fought world wars of their own – materialism, drugs, disgrace and the status quo – and have not given in to contemporary ideas and mandates.

These are seasoned, toughened warriors ready to lead the next generation that is hanging on by a thread. We hear so much about the generation that is coming but I'm telling you It's Here. Real Champions are made of experience. Veterans of numerous battles, they have fought and come back, fought and come back, retreated and now their wounds are healed. They are coming forth to lead and to fight one more day, and to go out fighting. For His Glory!

Some of the baby boomers are 'forgers', creating and supplying weapons and tools for the young army. Some will tend the wounded and 'nurse the young' in the rear guard. Quickly, quickly. Do not second-guess those who 'seem less' than you. They are 'seamless' in God's eyes, wearing holy robes of many colors because their gifts are many and varied. Great ones will arise from the least of these. Remember Gideon, David, Joseph – all 'seemed' to be unlikely candidates to family and friends yet today we revere their exploits. We have heard in recent years of many women, many who have left the church hungry and not fed, and for want of opportunity. They have led their daughters instead into witchcrafts as a result but their spirits will awaken and they will come back, drawn to the power of a living and loving God.

A special grace is being given to the dishonored ones, Vietnam veterans, who at this time will choose to step into this call. It is not because you are more special than any other, but God has declared that It's Time for you. Rise up, stop feeling sorry for yourselves, be released from pain, grief and rejection right now in Jesus' Name. The Lord has received you and not rejected you for your service to Him. If you will be like the Centurion and take Him at His word and obey His command without question like a good soldier, He will do it for you immediately and without delay. Receive now in Jesus' Name! He will give those of you who respond with a sincere heart more than a fellow soldier's connection with those who have been in Iraq and Afghanistan in recent years. He will give you sons and daughters. He is saying to You, "Peter, do you love Me? Feed my sheep."

There is more to share that we will be emailing soon. In the meantime, we would love to hear from you! Please send a note, share what God is speaking to you. I am currently putting together a 'Fire Map' of the Ohio River and am requesting that all of you seers out there who have seen the banks of the Ohio on fire at some time, to email so that I can 'mark the spot'.
